

1. Rowena - Executioner

"I used to lop off heads for business, and I expected the clients to stay dead. Now, I have to kill everyone a second time. I wonder if the Duke is paying double..."

Rowena was an executioner, the big, masked goon who beheaded, hanged, or otherwise ended the criminals condemned to death. She didn't particularly enjoy her job, but she did it conscientiously and without any unnecessary pain for her "clients". The problem is that a disturbing number of customers are coming back with blood on their (empty) minds. Fortunately, the axe that chopped off living heads works just fine on dead heads.
